

SMITH WINS CALIFORNIA PRIMARY

DEMOCRATIC PARTY LEADERS NOW THINK AL CERTAIN WINNER

California Victory Assures Success; Walsh Far Behind

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Almost the last faint chance that Al Smith "can be stopped" at Houston next month flickered out today in the wake of the California primary, which saw the New York governor score a smashing victory over his chief rivals for the Democratic nomination.

The governor's friends were jubilantly proclaiming today that "Al is in," and even the ultra-dry and anti-Tammany bitter-enders were disposed to concede it. There is scarcely a Democratic leader in Washington today who now believes that Gov. Smith will fall to attain the necessary two-thirds of the convention, although some of them, for local reasons, are not shouting it from the house-tops.

By his victory in California, which was hailed as the big test of Smith's appeal in the west, the governor has now run his total of favorable and committed delegates to approximately 508. This is out of a total of 658 delegates thus far selected, so that Smith is running, on a percentage basis, far in excess of the required two-thirds.

And of the 188 delegates chosen who are not definitely committed to Smith, it is known that some will vote for him after paying their respects to favorite sons.

Smith lieutenants in Washington were predicting today that he will be nominated on the first ballot. Certainly if the governor can maintain the dizzy pace he has set thus far, among the 442 delegates still to be selected, their predictions will be borne out. Smith needs roughly about 200 delegates yet, and his friends say there will be no difficulty in obtaining them.

While appreciating the numerical value of California's twenty-six delegates, it was not merely the acquisition of this much arithmetical strength that most impressed the governor's supporters today. What they dwell most heavily upon was the decisive repudiation of the theory persistently emphasized by the opposition that "Smith has no appeal in the west," because of his wet views and his Tammany affiliation.

Senator Thomas J. Walsh (D) of Montana, an avowed dry, and backed by Wm. G. McAdoo in the California contest, finished a poor third to Smith and a poor second to Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri. Incomplete returns and private advices reaching Democratic headquarters indicate that Smith will eventually be shown to have polled more votes than his two rivals combined.

This, the Smith supporters declared today, is the answer to the oft-advanced contention of the opposition that "the dry democracy of the West will never accept Smith." The governor even carried southern California, which is the stronghold of the dry sentiment of the state.

The future of Senator Walsh's candidacy appeared doubtful today. Thus far, Walsh has not a single committed delegate, save his own eight from Montana, and prior to the announcement of his candidacy it was known that Montana's delegates were favorable to the New York governor. Walsh was entered in Wisconsin, and lost to Smith and Reed. He has now lost again, and heavily, in California.

Reed, on the other hand, is still in the picture. At least he has a total of some 64 delegates, scattered through half a dozen states.

Smith's present total of 508 delegates are scattered from Maine to California, and from the Canadian border to the Gulf, which is another point that his friends dwell upon to show the universal nature of his strength.

As compiled here and conceded to be substantially accurate, the Smith scale shows to date:

Arizona, 6; Arkansas 8 out of 18; California, 26; Idaho, 8; Illinois, 50 out of 58; Iowa, 26; Louisiana, 20; Maine, 12; Massachusetts, 26; Michigan, 30; Minnesota, 24; New Hampshire, 8; New York, 90; North Dakota, 10; Oklahoma, 12 out of 20; Pennsylvania, 66 out of 76; Rhode Island, 20 out of 26; Wyoming, 6; the territories, 26.

LINDBERGH NOT PLANNING TRIP

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh isn't planning any more trans-Atlantic flights to Europe.

The pioneer ocean flyer made that plain today in denying the latest story emanating from the Washington rumor factory that he had completed plans for such a flight this summer with stops at Greenland and Iceland.

Maj. Thomas G. Lanphier, of the army air service, who was mentioned as his co-pilot in such an undertaking, issued a similar denial.

SENATE COMMITTEE FINISHES INQUIRY INTO "SLUSH FUND"

Sinclair Testimony Traces Continental Bonds

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The history of the mysterious Continental Trading Company and the division of its $3,980,000 liberty bond "slush fund" was a matter of public record today as the senate oil committee prepared to close its bond inquiry and launch a new investigation into the Salt Creek (Wyoming) oil field leases.

The senate inquiry has revealed that Harry F. Sinclair, Robert W. Stewart, James E. O'Neill and Henry M. Blackmer shared almost equally in the distribution of Continental bonds. Their shares were: Sinclair $757,000; Stewart, $759,500; O'Neill, $737,900; Blackmer, $763,000. The remainder of the $3,980,000 or $61,600—went to Henry Smith Osler, president of the Continental and its "paymaster."

Sinclair revealed in his testimony that he was very liberal with his share of the Continental bonds. He told of giving $233,000 to former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall in a ranch deal; $250,000 to the Republican national committee, of which $100,000 was later repaid, and of "lending" $100,000 personally to Will H. Hays, former Republican national chairman, now movie czar.

All these transactions were in Continental bonds, the committee revealed, although Sinclair said he didn't know it at the time, because he had so many bonds.

TRIAL STARTS

COURTHOUSE, ALBANY, N. Y. May 2.—After a twenty-four hour delay due to the disappearance of the prosecution's star witness, the trial of Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, former secretary of state, who is charged with stealing a $2,875 census check, formally got under way at 10 o'clock today before Supreme Court Justice Stephen Calaghan.

THUMBS DOWN

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Entomologists of the department of agriculture today turned thumbs down on the suggestion that "bats be used in the combat" against the European corn borer.

This was one of the numberless suggestions that have come from all sections of the country offering possible means of controlling the pest.

The "bat suggester" pointed out that bats were known to eat insects and that they were encouraged to roost in or near cornfields and feed on the borer.

The experts found this impractical, principally because of the relatively small number of bats, and the difficulties of increasing propagation.

LIEUTENANT ROYAL THOMAS AFTER MARK IN BELLANCA PLANE

Heavily Loaded Ship Used In Attempt To Break Record

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., May 2.—Lieut. Royal D. Thomas, flying alone in a single-motor Bellanca monoplane, took off at 12:29 this afternoon in a second attempt to break the world's endurance flight record of fifty-three hours, thirty-six minutes and thirty seconds held by Eddie Stinson and George Haldeman.

Thomas hopped off at 10:07 this morning but his heavy plane could not make altitude and he was forced down. Undaunted, he had the plane refueled and took off again this afternoon.

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., May 2.—In an attempt to break the world's record for sustained flight, Lieutenant Royal D. Thomas, took off here at 10:07 this morning, unofficial time, in a single-motor Bellanca monoplane named the "Reliance."

The record, fifty-three hours, thirty-six minutes and thirty seconds, is held by Eddie Stinson and George Haldeman.

Thomas ran the plane for almost half a mile down the field before he was able to get it off the ground.

Rising gradually, the plane, with its heavy load, just skimmed over a string of telephone lines and headed northwest. It was believed Thomas would remain within a seventy-five mile radius of the field.

Thomas' decision to fly alone was somewhat of a surprise. It had been said that he would have a co-pilot whose identity would be made known just before the takeoff. But when asked why the pilot would be, Thomas replied: "Mr. Right Hand," extending his right hand.

His plane is equipped with a radio receiving set. While he is in the air he will receive weather reports and other information from station WOR. His plane is similar to the Bellanca monoplane, "Columbia," in which Clarence Chamberlin and Bert Acosta once broke the world's endurance record. It has, however, a larger gasoline capacity and contains structural improvements developed since the "Columbia" was built.

The "Reliance" carried about 535 gallons of gasoline, eighty-five gallons in the two wing tanks and 450 gallons in a body tank in the passenger compartment. It also carried about twenty gallons of oil. The "Columbia" carried 335 gallons of gasoline when it broke the endurance record.

STUDENTS RUN CITY

AKRON, O., May 2.—Akron has a new city administration today. Twenty Akron University students took over the governmental reins this morning and will rule the city for the day. Mrs. Marion Walsh, pretty nineteen year old freshman, is acting mayor. All other city offices will be filled by students, also.

MINER IS KILLED

MARTINS FERRY, O., May 2.—The first fatality of the Dorothy Mine of the Y. & O. coal company, since resumed with non-union labor last month, was reported here today. James Walker, 50, Ivydale, was killed in a stonefall while working in the mine.

"BIG BILL" HAYWOOD THOUGHT DYING; HAS PARALYTIC STROKE

MOSCOW, May 2.—William D. ("Big Bill") Haywood, former Chicago leader of the Industrial Workers of the World, who has been seriously ill in the Kremlin hospital, suffered a paralytic stroke, last night and was failing rapidly today.

The attending physicians said that Haywood could not recover. He was so low during the night that the doctors said it was a miracle he survived. This morning he seemed slightly better and the morning bulletin referred to his condition as "somewhat improved."

The patient's heart was so weak that stimulants had to be administered. Not even his wife was allowed at the bedside.

Haywood has long suffered from diabetes, but the symptoms yielded to insulin treatment. His heart became affected and general weakness developed. Haywood is 59 years old. He came to Soviet Russia about eight years ago to escape arrest in the United States.

He was given a small post by the Soviet government in recognition of his efforts in behalf of Bolshevism.

TEN PERISH IN MAY DAY FIGHTING IN WARSAW

WARSAW, May 2.—Ten persons are dead here today, others are dying and more than 100 are suffering from wounds as a result of the worst May Day rioting in the history of Poland.

Nearly 50,000 Socialists and Communists took part in violent street fighting. Panic reigned over a large section of the city as the rival factions fired upon each other.

Theater Square was strewn with bodies of dead and wounded for two hours.

Troops and police finally restored order. Heavy damage was done to property.

A group of Communists, who pretended to be workmen, edged their way into the Socialist crowd and began to make speeches. Fighting broke out at once. The Socialists claim that the Communists opened fire upon the Socialist procession.

NARCOTIC BUREAU WILL PROBE THREATS SENT TO NEWSPAPERS

Three Publications Menaced In Notes Signed "Dope Ring"—Murder And Bombings Promised In Letters Received.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Evidence of a widespread campaign of threat and intimidation against newspapers on behalf of a self-styled "dope ring," was disclosed today by Col. L. G. Nutt, head of the federal narcotic unit.

Letters sent to three publications from Los Angeles and turned over to the federal authorities said:

"Warning to the publisher: If you publish any articles of any kind about us we will blow up your place and kill you. And we don't mean maybe. Keep your mouth shut and watch your step. We mean business. (Signed) The Dope Ring."

The letters were sent to the Journal of the American Pharmaceutical Association, of Baltimore, the publication of the Sons of America, a patriotic society of Baltimore, and to the Masonic Herald of Rome, Ga.

Col. Nutt was puzzled as to whether the letters were actually written by an agent for some dope ring and are to be taken seriously, or whether they were prepared by a dope-crazed fanatic, or constituted nothing more than a hoax.

Information also was received that a newspaper in New England had received a similar threatening letter. Nutt said that undoubtedly a large number of other threats have been written to daily newspapers. He ordered a general investigation.

The letters were printed in pencil on ordinary white paper. They were mailed at the Arcade subpost station at Los Angeles. Narcotic agents in charge at Los Angeles and San Francisco will be furnished with all details. Nutt requested all newspapers or publications which have received threats purporting to be from dope rings to communicate with him at once.

WASHINGTON GIVES OVATION TO FLYERS WHO CROSSED OCEAN

Reception Follows Brilliant Banquet In New York

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The German-Irish flyers would like to fly their plane Bremen back across the Atlantic and will do so if it is at all possible, Major James Fitzmaurice declared here today.

No definite decision has been made, he said, because so many factors are involved in arranging the return flight.

The flyers will use the Bremen's sister ship, the Junkers F-13, on their tour of the United States. The itinerary for which will be announced later.

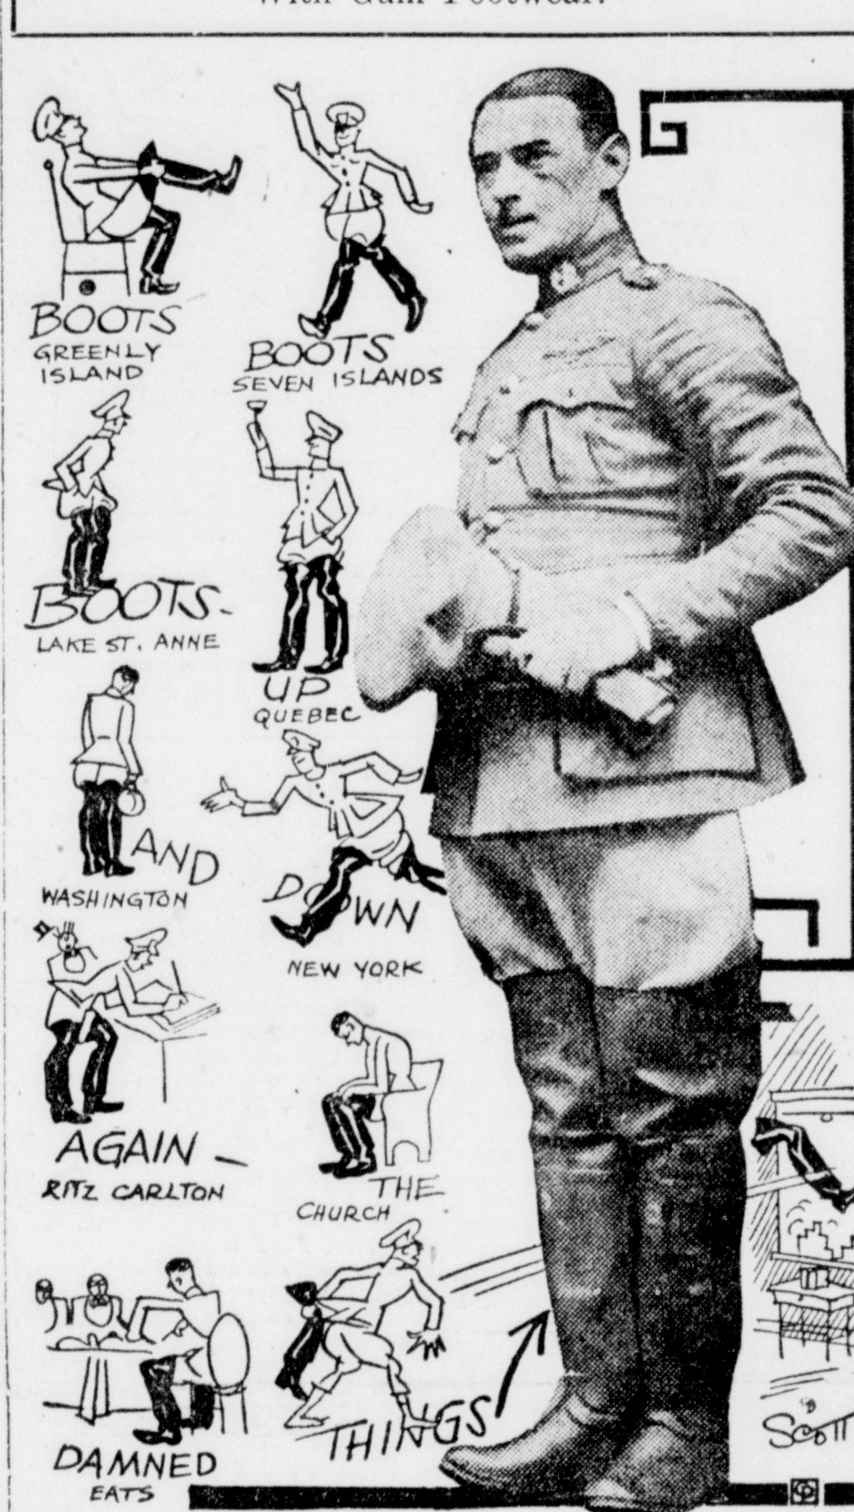

Fitzmaurice said an effort will be made in about eight days to get the Bremen off Greenely Island.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The daring trio of two Germans and an Irishman who wrote a new and brilliant page in aeronautical history by spanning the Atlantic in the first east-to-west crossing came to Washington today and received the plaudits of the government and the populace for their stirring achievement.

The capital has no towering skyscrapers from which to show er down storms of ticker-tape upon its lionized visitors, no hysterical millions to scream a welcome and mob them, but every official from President Coolidge down to the admiring flappers in the government departments joined today in unfolding panorama of official recognition and high praise for the heroic crew of the Bremen.

Boots, BOOTS, B O O T S. Up and down again. . . . .

NEW YORK, May 2.—Kipling's maddening lines are running through Major James Fitzmaurice's mind.

"The damned things!" The transatlantic flyer smiled. "When I brought them along I didn't think I'd have to wear them—alive—two weeks!"

This is an explanation of why all of the pictures of the Irish aviator taken from the time he landed on Greenely Island until he was formally welcomed to New York, sixteen days later, show him wearing hip boots which sound, when he walks, like they look.

The flyers carried their wardrobes on their backs on the first westward flight of an airplane. At Greenely, at Sevep Islands, at Lake St. Anne, at Quebec, there was no chance for the major to obtain shoes and puttees to accompany his uniform. He lived in his rubber boots.

Any farmer or worker who has had to wear gum boots for two or three days knows how they hurt the feet also how they make them perspire. The major had to wear his eighteen days!

He landed in New York with them, rode in them in a private car to Washington, attended the Bennett memorial ceremonies in New York, was shamed by the ultra-formal Mayor Walker at the formal welcoming ceremonies in Pennsylvania station in them, dined in them.

The major wore into the Ritz-Carlton hotel the only pair of gum boots ever seen there. Bystanders were shocked. In his room, with a bit of privacy at last, the major was reminded for the thousandth time by his aching dogs of the

WILL SERVE LIFE

AKRON, O., May 2.—Jess Brosier, 41, Logansport, Ind., was given a life sentence in Ohio Penitentiary by Judge L. S. Pardee here. Brosier was convicted of breaking into the residence of A. H. Noah. The jury was out only thirteen minutes.

The facts are generally agreed upon, according to the report of the naval affairs committee today on a bill to reinstate Cardwell. As explained by Rep. Burdick (R) of Rhode Island there are:

Cardwell, rushing to inspection, found he had no freshly pressed suit. In dismay he rushed to the room of Midshipman Beyerly and grabbed a pair of trousers. He continued in search of a coat, and went into Midshipman Thompson's room, where he got another pair of trousers and a coat.

Both cadets were absent at the time. One of them returned, missed his suit, and complained. The clothes were found in Cardwell's room. He made no effort to conceal them or remove identifying marks.

The midshipmen whose clothes were taken say they are certain Cardwell only borrowed the clothes. The navy department agrees to this.

But Cardwell was dismissed and Secretary Wilbur and ranking admirals sustained it.

GOVERNOR LEADING BOTH OPPONENTS IN INITIAL VOTE TEST

Reed Second, Walsh Poor Third In Tri-Cornered Race

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—A decisive victory for Gov. Alfred E. Smith was indicated today by incomplete returns from the Democratic vote in California's preferential primary election yesterday.

Out of a total of 3,044 precincts throughout the state, returns from 5,713 showed Smith to be leading by more than 30,000 votes over the combined poll of both of his opponents for the Democratic presidential nomination, Senator James A. Reed of Missouri and Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana.

While the New York governor had garnered a total of 100,528 ballots, Reed had polled 40,128 and Walsh, 29,504, in the reported precincts.

Despite the light vote cast throughout the state, Herbert Hoover, sole candidate on the Republican ticket, was accorded a good-

PASSING OF MCADOO

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—Assurance of the election of the Gov. Smith delegation to the Democratic national convention today brought an unofficial declaration from H. H. McPike, chairman of the "Gov. Smith for president" association, which handed the state campaign for the New York candidate.

McPike looked upon the victory of Smith in California as presaging "beyond any question" his nomination at Houston.

McPike also intimated that "this means the passing of William Gibbs McAdoo as a factor in the Democratic party."

McAdoo was the head of the Walsh ticket in California.

sized "confidence vote" of 403,508 in the 5,713 precincts thus far tabulated.

It is estimated that approximately 35 per cent of the 1,849,979 registered voters cast ballots in the election. This is ascribed by political observers to the absence of a contest in Republican ranks in a predominantly Republican state.

As tabulation of the ballots proceeded, indications pointed to a steady growth in Governor Smith's lead. Out of the precincts already tabulated, approximately four ballots had been cast in his favor to each one for either Reed or Walsh.

In 1,785 precincts out of the 2,607 in Los Angeles County, the most densely populated county in California, Smith was accorded a plurality of more than 13,000 votes over Walsh, who was officially supported by the William Gibbs McAdoo faction, and a plurality of more than 650 over Reed.

Complete returns from San Francisco County gave Smith an overwhelming majority over his opponents. A stronghold of the Smith forces, San Francisco County gave the New York governor 30,062, while Reed received 5,343 and Walsh 1,792 votes.

COLORED ALDERMAN WILL BE CANDIDATE TO SUCCEED MADDEN

Oscar De Priest Is Selected To Run For Congress

CHICAGO, May 2.—Oscar De Priest, Chicago's first negro alderman, has been selected as the Republican candidate for Congress from the first Illinois district to succeed the late Congressman Martin B. Madden.

DePriest is committeeman and third ward leader in the political organization headed by Mayor William Hale Thompson. His selection as nominee for congress was believed dictated by Mayor Thompson, although five district committeemen, including DePriest, voted unanimously to put the negro's name on the ballot.

If he is elected in November, DePriest will be the first negro congressman from Illinois, and the first to represent any state in twenty-five years.

Congressman Madden, who was one of the best known men at the nation's capital, died suddenly of heart disease last week after having been renominated to succeed himself. He had represented the first district, with three-quarters of the population negro, for the past twenty-five years.

HEAVY FIRE LOSS

NEW YORK, May 2.—A fire which swept the John A. Casey Paint, Oil and Varnish Works in Brooklyn was brought under control this morning after causing damage estimated at $100,000. Two buildings in which hundreds of barrels of oil, turpentine and paint were stored, caught fire and several explosions resulted. One fireman was injured.

FIREMAN KILLED BY AUTO DURING ALARM

TOLEDO, O., May 2.—Joseph Weiss, 38, a member of the volunteer fire department of Point Place, Toledo suburb, was killed almost instantly today when he was run over by an automobile as he entered the fire station in response to an alarm.

Steve Yano, 23, of Toledo, driver of the car which struck Weiss, is being held on a charge of manslaughter. He was arrested by police at his home after the accident.

SENATE COMMITTEE FINISHES INQUIRY INTO "SLUSH FUND"

Sinclair Testimony Traces Continental Bonds

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The history of the mysterious Continental Trading Company and the division of its $3,080,000 liberty bond "slush fund" was a matter of public record today as the senate oil committee prepared to close its long inquiry and launch a new investigation into the Salt Creek (Wyoming) oil field leases.

GOVERNOR LEADING BOTH OPPONENTS IN INITIAL VOTE TEST

Reed Second, Walsh Poor Third In Tri-Cornered Race

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—A decisive victory for Gov. Alfred E. Smith was indicated today by incomplete returns from the Democratic vote in California's preferential primary election yesterday.

Out of a total of 3,044 precincts throughout the state, returns from 5,713 showed Smith to be leading by more than 30,000 votes over the combined poll of both of his opponents for the Democratic presidential nomination, Senator James A. Reed of Missouri and Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana.

While the New York governor had garnered a total of 100,528 ballots, Reed had polled 40,128 and Walsh, 29,504, in the reported precincts.

Despite the light vote cast throughout the state, Herbert Hoover, sole candidate on the Republican ticket, was accorded a good-sized "confidence vote" of 403,508 in the 5,713 precincts thus far tabulated.

It is estimated that approximately 35 per cent of the 1,849,979 registered voters cast ballots in the election. This is ascribed by political observers to the absence of a contest in Republican ranks in a predominantly Republican state.

As tabulation of the ballots proceeded, indications pointed to a steady growth in Governor Smith's lead. Out of the precincts already elected, this is ascribed by political observers to the absence of a contest in Republican ranks in a predominantly Republican state.

In 1,785 precincts out of the 2,607 in Los Angeles County, the most densely populated county in California, Smith was accorded a plurality of more than 13,000 votes over Walsh, who was officially supported by the William Gibbs McAdoo faction, and a plurality of more than 650 over Reed.

Complete returns from San Francisco County gave Smith an overwhelming majority over his opponents. A strong hold of the Smith forces, San Francisco County gave the New York governor 30,062, while Reed received 5,343 and Walsh 1,792 votes.

CHICAGO, May 2.—Oscar DePriest, Chicago's first negro alderman, has been selected as the Republican candidate for congress from the first Illinois district to succeed the late Congressman Martin B. Madden.

DePriest is a committeeman and third ward leader in the political organization headed by Mayor William Hale Thompson. His selection as nominee for congress was believed dictated by Mayor Thompson, although five district committeemen, including DePriest, voted unanimously to put the negro's name on the ballot.

If he is elected in November, DePriest will be the first negro congressman from Illinois, and the first to represent any state in twenty-six years.

Congressman Madden, who was one of the best known men at the nation's capital, died suddenly of heart disease last week after having been re-nominated to succeed himself. He had represented the first district, with three-quarters of the population negro, for the past twenty-five years.

LINDBERGH NOT PLANNING TRIP

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh isn't planning any more trans-Atlantic flights to Europe.

The pioneer ocean flyer made that plain today in denying the latest story emanating from the Washington rumor factory that he had completed plans for such a flight this summer with stops at Greenland and Iceland.

THUMBS DOWN

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Entomologists of the department of agriculture today turned thumbs down on the suggestion that "bats be used in the combat" against the European corn borer.

This was one of the numberless suggestions that have come from all sections of the country offering possible means of controlling the pest.

"BIG BILL" HAYWOOD THOUGHT DYING; HAS PARALYTIC STROKE

MOSCOW, May 2.—William D. ("Big Bill") Haywood, former Chicago leader of the Industrial Workers of the World, who has been seriously ill in the Kremlin hospital, suffered a paralytic stroke last night and was falling rapidly today.

The attending physicians said that Haywood could not recover. He was so low during the night that the doctors said it was a miracle he survived. This morning he seemed slightly better and the morning bulletin referred to his condition as "somewhat improved."

SHOULD BORROWED PANTS BLAST CAREER?

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Should a young man's dream of a proud career as an officer of Uncle Sam's navy be forever blasted because he borrowed a pair of pants from a friend?

The lords of the navy say it should—and refuse to re-instate Larry Cardwell, of Washington, D. C., in the Annapolis naval academy.

FIREMAN KILLED BY AUTO DURING ALARM

TOLEDO, O., May 2.—Joseph Weiss, 38, a member of the volunteer fire department of Point Place, Toledo suburb, was killed almost instantly today when he was run over by an automobile as he entered the fire station in response to an alarm.

Steve Yano, 23, of Toledo, driver of the car which struck Weiss, is being held on a charge of manslaughter. He was arrested by police at his home after the accident.

HEAVY FIRE LOSS

NEW YORK, May 2.—A fire which swept the John A. Casey Paint, Oil and Varnish Works in Brooklyn was brought under control this morning after causing damage estimated at $100,000. Two buildings in which hundreds of barrels of oil, turpentine and paint were stored, caught fire and several explosions resulted. One fireman was injured.

WOULD PARTITION ESTATE OF MAN WHO SUCCUMBED IN 1889

Partition of real estate owned by the late Kesiah Powers, who died in 1889, is asked in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court by Lavin St. John against Cleola Maud Gurnley. Decedent owned one-half interest in certain property described in the petition and the plaintiff and defendant, as the only heirs, are tenants in common on the premises and are entitled to immediate possession, it is set forth in the petition.

Miller and Finney are attorneys for the plaintiff.

THEFT OF FLOWERS PROBED BY POLICE

Police received an entirely new form of complaint Tuesday. In fact, several protests were received from irate residents concerning the thefts of spring flowers.

An investigation is expected to be conducted.

"Who is She?"

You simply can't keep people from wanting to know who you are when you're as sparkingly fresh and crisply beautiful as dainty Georgette Vorel, lovely New York City girl who lives at 782 Carroll Street, Brooklyn. Everyone admires her lovely figure, and her marvelously clear, rose-tinted complexion; but women marvel most at the softness and lustre of her hair.

"I am so busy that I have almost no time to give to my hair," says Miss Vorel, "and I really don't know what I should do about it, if I hadn't learned how so many of my girl friends here in New York are taking care of theirs.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Yellow Springs

The annual Greene County Junior-Senior banquet was held Friday evening at the First United Presbyterian Church in Xenia. The Juniors and seniors from the High School accompanied by Supt. Wilder, Miss Dillencourt, Miss Treslee and Mr. Barnhart attended the banquet. Rev. Carl Sunberg of Springfield was the speaker of the evening.

The annual class play to be presented by the seniors will be given Friday evening in the Opera House. "Miss Somebody Else" is the title of the play. This is a four-act comedy and has some very interesting and exciting scenes in it. If you don't attend this play you will miss an evening of real enjoyment.

A surprise party was well carried out Tuesday evening when a group of friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jacobs to celebrate the birthday of Mrs. Jacobs. Refreshments of ice cream and the following guests: Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Pat-guests, Rev. and Mrs. Will Forbes, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Hulsar, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Skilling, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Shaw and daughters, Margaret and Roberta, Leslie, Mary, Phoebe and Jean Skilling, Mrs. J. C. Jacobs, Charles Jacobs of New Carlisle, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Jacobs and children, Anna, Earl and Lloyd.

Miss Belle Mitchell returned Saturday from Xenia where she has been visiting for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pultz have sold their property on Winter St. to George Hilt and gave possession Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Pultz have moved into the apartment over the post office.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian Church will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. J. E. Drake.

Wilmer McCarty and Miss Orma Taylor of Springfield, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lucas, Sunday.

Fred Wolfe, who has been in Denver, Colorado, returned home Tuesday for a short visit with his mother, Mrs. Ruth Patton.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Shook are announcing the birth of a little daughter, Patricia Ann, born Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sparrow of Springfield spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. M. M. McCarty.

Dr. and Mrs. S. F. Weston left by automobile Saturday morning for New Brunswick, New Jersey, where they will spend a few days with Mrs. Weston's sister, Mrs. Robert Phillips, from there they will go to New Bedford, Mass., where they will spend two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Will Figgins before going to their summer home at Hurricane, N. Y.

Mrs. W. R. Hamner, of Dayton, was here Sunday calling on friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Alexander are the parents of a baby girl born at the Smith Sanatorium Thursday evening. The little one has been named Mary Lou.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnston and family of Clifton, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Millard Coffman.

DAIRYMEN HELD ON STATE AFFIDAVITS PROPERTY OWNERS FILE TAX RETURNS

James Hurley and O. L. Clemmer, dairymen, pleaded not guilty before J. F. McEwan, justice of the peace, Tuesday, when they were arraigned on three affidavits each charging them with using registered milk bottles belonging to other dairies.

Their hearings were set for May 8. They were arrested on affidavits prepared by James Martin, Columbus, inspector for the state department of dairy and food inspection, who accused them of making use of milk bottles owned by Ringer and Son, The Springfield Dairy Products Co., and V. H. Moore and Son.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet with Miss Hattie Oglesbee Wednesday afternoon, May 2nd.

Mrs. Truman Hlatt who has been suffering with the grip is recovering slowly.

Mr. Jacob Oglesbee spent the week end in Dayton with relatives.

Mrs. Frank Bishop of Xenia and Mrs. Charles Diboil of Wilmington were the guests of their sister, Mrs. Elmer Lewis Friday.

Miss Marie Michener spent the week end in Dayton with her sister Ruth.

INDIGESTION WILL SPOIL YOUR LIFE

How To End Stomach Troubles

Although indigestion may not be chronic with many people, it is surprising how even slight pains or feelings of fullness after eating steal much of life's sparkle and happiness. Perhaps you scarcely notice it in the early stages, but remember indigestion never cures itself and usually gets worse. Be on your guard then.

The safest, surest and easiest way to end indigestion, heartburn or flatulence is to take a little "Pape's Diapiesin" after meals or whenever pain is felt. This quickly stops your discomfort by neutralizing excess stomach acid and preventing fermentation, and at the same time soothes, heals and strengthens your delicate stomach lining.

Get a 60-cent package of "Pape's Diapiesin" today—every druggist sells and recommends it, as a remedy for stomach troubles. Don't let indigestion spoil your life—you can't have stomach troubles and "Pape's Diapiesin" too!

THEFT OF FLOWERS PROBED BY POLICE

Police received an entirely new form of complaint Tuesday. In fact, several protests were received from irate residents concerning the thefts of spring flowers.

An investigation is expected to be conducted.

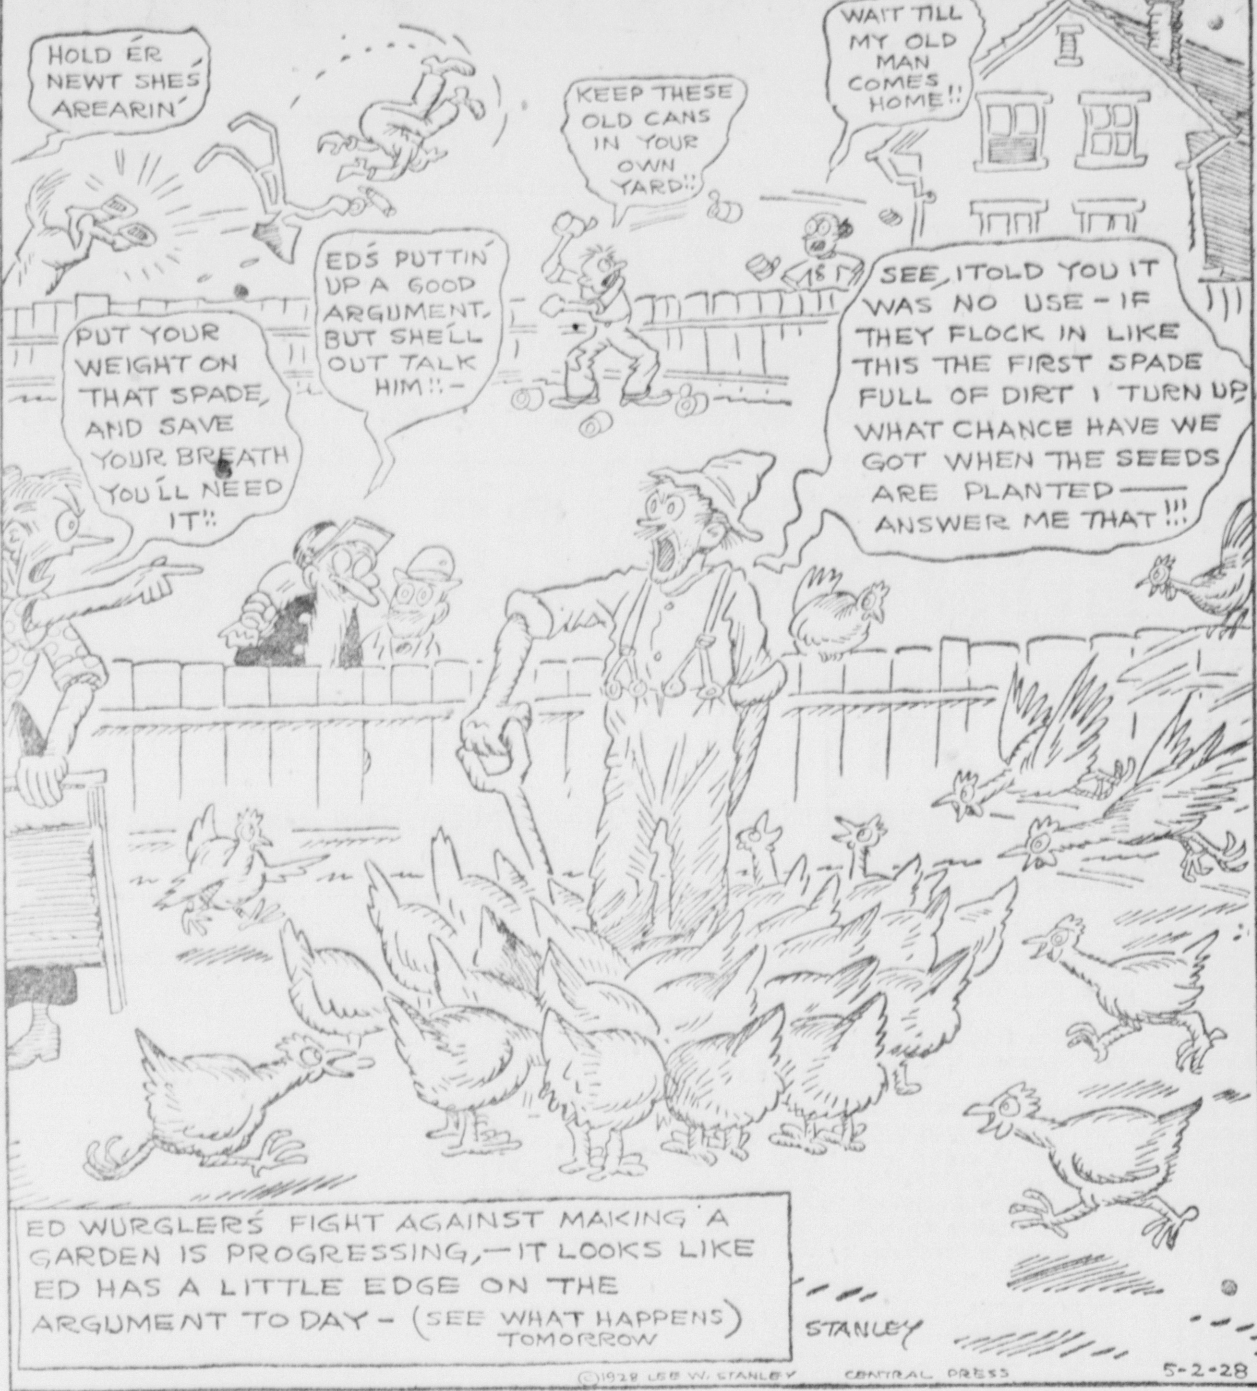

"Who is She?"

You simply can't keep people from wanting to know who you are when you're as sparklingly fresh and crisply beautiful as dainty Georgette Vorel, lovely New York City girl who lives at 782 Carroll Street, Brooklyn. Everyone admires her lovely figure, and her marvellously clear, rose-tinted complexion; but women marvel most at the softness and lustre of her hair. "I am so busy that I have almost no time to give to my hair," says Miss Vorel, "and I really don't know what I should do about it, if I hadn't learned how so many of my girl friends here in New York are taking care of theirs. "It's so simple. All you do is put a few dashes of Danderine on your brush each time you use it. This wonderful preparation keeps my hair so soft and lustrous that many friends have commented on it. It makes my scalp feel just grand and all dandruff disappeared with the first few applications. It keeps my hair so clean that I don't have to shampoo nearly so often as I used to."

Danderine isn't oily and doesn't show. It makes hair easy to dress and holds it in place. All drug stores have the 3c bottles. Lovely hair and a healthy scalp for a few cents. Adv.

APRIL WEATHER NOT VERY SPRING-LIKE

With temperature frequently below freezing and an average temperature for the month of 48.2 degrees, April was anything but spring-like according to the monthly summary of W. W. Neffert, Dayton government observer.

Normal temperature for April is 51.5 degrees. April was consistently cool with temperature as low as 26 degrees on April 26 while the highest was 75 degrees on April 6.

The average daily deficiency in temperature for the month was 3.4 degrees, represented an accumulated deficiency of 104 degrees since January 1. Precipitation during the month amounted to 3.62 inches, including a small amount of snowfall and excess of precipitation of 0.42 inches.

There were three clear days, eighteen partly cloudy, nine cloudy, twelve on which precipitation occurred and only 178.1 hours of actual sunshine out of a possible 398.8 for an average of 45. Sleets occurred April 7 and there were thunderstorms April 19 and 23.

The mails have been unusually heavy in the last several days, Mr. Curlett declared.

It is announced that approximately 8,500 returns have been made. Returns could be filed up to and including Wednesday without forfeiting the $100 exemption for prompt filing. It was declared.

INDIGESTION WILL SPOIL YOUR LIFE

How To End Stomach Troubles

Although indigestion may not be chronic with many people, it is surprising how even slight pains or feelings of fullness after eating steal much of life's sparkle and happiness. Perhaps you scarcely notice it in the early stages, but remember indigestion never cures itself and usually gets worse. Be on your guard then.

The safest, surest and easiest way to end indigestion, heartburn or flatulence is to take a little "Pape's Diapepsin" after meals or whenever pain is felt. This quickly stops your discomfort by neutralizing excess stomach acid and preventing fermentation, and at the same time soothes, heals and strengthens your delicate stomach lining.

Get a 60-cent package of "Pape's Diapepsin" today—every druggist sells and recommends it, as a sure remedy for stomach troubles. Don't let indigestion spoil your life—you can't have stomach troubles and "Pape's Diapepsin" too! Adv.

SUCCESS MARKS PARTY OF FRATERNITY TUESDAY

With frivolity outshining that of the old-time parties sponsored by the society, ninety couples attended the dancing party given by the Beta Beta Chapter, Phi Delta Kappa Fraternity, at the Elks' Club, Tuesday evening.

Mirth was unconfined and everyone voted the affair the best ever sponsored by the chapter. The party was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. George Tiffany, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Spahr and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Hall.

Eight couples from Dayton, nine couples from Wilmington, besides a number of other guests from Lebanon, Washington C. H. and other nearby cities, attended the party. Music was furnished by the Harmony Four, Dayton. The Misses Helen Hurley and Helen Ford sang two songs and the evening was further enlivened by specialty dances by Messrs. Ray Lackey and Bert Green of the cast of "The Little Coodhopper." Punch was served during the evening.

DAYTON SLAYER IS CONVICTED BY JURY

DAYTON, O., May 2—Luther Hunter, 36, Dayton negro, was today awaiting sentence after a jury returned a verdict of murder in the first degree with a recommendation of mercy against him as midnight for the alleged slaying of William Wilson, negro patrolman, on February 22.

The negro patrolman was the third Dayton officer to be killed in a series of murders at the hands of negroes. Hunter was alleged to have shot Wilson in an altercation over the latter's wife.

JURY VINDICATES SLURRED GENERAL

COBOURG, Ont., May 2—General Sir Arthur Currie, commander in chief of the Canadian corps in France during the World War, today stood vindicated of charges published in the Port Hope, Ont., Guide which slurred his war record.

A jury here awarded Sir Arthur $500 and costs. The costs are expected to reach about $30,000. Sir Currie sued for $50,000, but stated during the course of the trial that he wanted only vindication, not money.

Sir Arthur brought his action after the Port Hope Guide had published an article on June 13, 1927, charging that "to glorify the Canadian headquarters staff," Canadians were needlessly sent to capture the city of Mons from the Germans after the commander knew the armistice had been signed.

FIRE TRUCK FAILS TO FULFILL STATE REQUIREMENT HERE

A fire truck with an auxiliary rotary pumper unit having 600 gallons guaranteed capacity, product of the General Manufacturing Co., St. Louis, Mo., and having a Studebaker chassis, was tested in Xenia Tuesday in the presence of members of the Xenia Fire Department.

City Commission recently authorized the advertising of bids for a new pumper unit for the department and the test was made in this connection.

Fremmen say the apparatus pumped at a rate of 643 gallons per minute, off a draft and only 495 gallons per minute off a fire plug or 105 gallons below capacity from the plug and forty-seven gallons short of the required 15 per cent over guaranteed capacity.

The truck to be purchased by the city must pass the state test or be 15 per cent over guaranteed capacity.

Recently the department tested a 750-gallon pumper manufactured by The Ahrens-Fox Fire Engine Co., Cincinnati, O., which pumped 1,100 gallons of water per minute from both draft and plug.

This pumper, when attached to a four-inch main at Home Ave. and Monroe St., also boosted the pressure from twelve to seventy-eight pounds, doing an average of 47 per cent over-guaranteed capacity. This was a piston pump.

The tests were voluntary upon the part of the companies which have submitted bids for the new truck to be purchased.

In both instances the pumps were attached to the turret nozzle now employed on the present pumper used by the department.

Both instances the pumps were attached to the turret nozzle now employed on the present pumper used by the department.

MORE MARINES ARE SENT AFTER REBELS

PUERTO CABEZAS, NICARAGUA, May 2.—Two additional detachments of marines were enroute today to join the three columns now converging on the Pis Pis mining district in a net spread to capture the Sandinista band which looted the American mines there on April 12 and 13.

Two Amphibian planes were expected here today to assist in the drive against the guerrillas. The marines intend to cut off the rebels from every side and force them into a decisive battle before the rainy season begins next month.

There was still no word today from George Marshall, of New York, assistant manager of the La Luz mine, and acting-superintendent of the Neptune mine, both of whom are believed to be in the hands of the rebels.

BOARD APPROVES ELECTION BILLS

Bills amounting to $2,938.62 incurred by the recent presidential preference primary election in Greene County, were allowed by the Board of Elections Tuesday night, according to R. E. Dunkel, clerk of the board.

Mr. Dunkel estimates that when all bills have been approved, the election will have cost Greene County approximately $3,100.

No other business was transacted at the meeting. The election board is expected to hold its 1928 organization meeting early next week to select a deputy and clerk.

FACES KIDNAPING, MANN ACT CHARGES

RICHMOND, Ind., May 2.—Charged with violating the Mann act and kidnaping, Homer Johnson, Holly Hill farmer, was today placed in custody of federal authorities at Indianapolis by Sheriff Long of Wayne County, Indiana.

Johnson, it was alleged, kidnaped Mrs. Stella Cameron, 23, from her home at Hamilton, Ohio, threatening her husband with a pistol. The warrant charged him with holding Mrs. Cameron prisoner in this city from Wednesday until rescued yesterday by police. The woman's husband signed the affidavit seeking Johnson's arrest.

CINCINNATI, O., May 2.—Nicholas Longworth, speaker of the house of representatives, as Republican candidate for congressman of the first district and William E. Hess for congressman of the second district were unanimously endorsed by the Republican Central Committee of Hamilton here last night.

Mrs. May M. Van Wye, Cliff E. Martin, and Benjamin F. Berman were endorsed in their race for the state senate.

For members of the house of representatives, the committee endorsed Miss Antoinette Jackson, Louis Nippert, E. G. Schussler, Howard D. Porter, Henry J. Cady, James Manley, Joseph C. Dismore, Hubert S. Marshall and Lawrence A. Kane.

Judge Frances M. Hamilton was endorsed as Republican candidate for judge of the court of appeals, long term, and Colonel Simon Ross, for judge of the court of appeals, short term.

SHIPPING BOARD REJECTS NEW PLAN

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The U. S. Shipping Board's summary rejection of the proposed four-day, New York to Europe, ship and airplane schedule today threatened to involve congress in a bitter controversy on the eve of consideration of the Jones-White merchant marine bill.

Backers of the bill expressed the fear that the action has "thrown a wrench" into plans to restore the American merchant marine to its former high position, since virtually no opposition had hitherto appeared to the Jones-White measure.

Many congressmen, who have been "sold" on the idea of four-day liners to Europe—cutting the running time of big ships two days and using airplanes to speed the way of both passengers and mails—also entered their protest.

The shipping board's action, it was learned, was made the subject of a secret meeting of the house merchant marine committee.

FIRE TRUCK FAILS TO FULFILL STATE REQUIREMENT HERE

A fire truck with an auxiliary rotary pumper unit having 600 gallons guaranteed capacity, product of the General Manufacturing Co., St. Louis, Mo., and having a Studebaker chassis, was tested in Xenia Tuesday in the presence of members of the Xenia Fire Department.

City Commission recently authorized the advertising of bids for a new pumper unit for the department and the test was made in this connection.

Firemen say the apparatus pumped at a rate of 643 gallons per minute off a draft and only 495 gallons per minute off a fire plug or 105 gallons below capacity from the plug and forty-seven gallons short of the required 15 per cent over guaranteed capacity.

The truck to be purchased by the city must pass the state test or be 15 per cent over guaranteed capacity.

Recently the department tested a 750-gallon pumper manufactured by The Ahrens-Fox Fire Engine Co., Cincinnati, O., which pumped 1,100 gallons of water per minute from both draft and plug.

This pumper, when attached to a four-inch main at Home Ave. and Monroe St., also boosted the pressure from twelve to seventy-eight pounds, doing an average of 47 per cent over-guaranteed capacity. This was a piston pump.

The tests were voluntary upon the part of the companies which have submitted bids for the new truck to be purchased.

In both instances the pumps were attached to the turret nozzle now employed on the present pumper used by the department.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

A GREAT PLEDGE—Bind them (the commandments) continually upon thine heart, and tie them about thy neck. When thou goest, it shall lead thee; when thou sleepest, it shall keep thee; and when thou awakest, it shall talk with thee.—Prov. 6:21, 22.

TRAINING SCHOOL FOR WORLD LEADERS

The work of the friendly salesman or saleslady who serves by helping the customers of mercantile establishments in selecting the things they will like is perhaps one of the most agreeable occupations as well as a most valuable one because the training it provides.

Probably the most useful knowledge that comes to retail salespeople is that profound understanding of human nature which enables them to anticipate the wishes, the questions, and often the objections of customers. To know human nature is to understand how people in general think and act; and in all the realms of learning there is no subject more valuable or useful to the business man. Where can the average individual acquire a better grasp of the problems of dealing with the public than on the firing line of retail selling?

"Experience in selling across the counter," declares one observer of business trends and occupations, "is training for the battle of life." Certainly there is much truth in his remark, for the ability to deal successfully with human beings is a trait of tremendously practical value to a worker in almost any field of endeavor. Whether a retail salesman continues in merchandising work, and eventually becomes manager or proprietor of a retail store, or whether he shifts to some other career, the knowledge and experience gained behind the counter will prove to be a real aid to ultimate success and achievement. Innumerable men who later became world leaders gained their first knowledge of human nature as clerks in stores, among them Abraham Lincoln and John D. Rockefeller, while in the merchandising field proper, stand the names of Marshall Field and John Wanamaker.

RACING AROUND WORLD

Two Japanese newspaper reporters are racing around the world, one westward, the other eastward. They are to go as fast as they can, with only one qualification. They must nowhere engage any special or private means of travel. There can be no chartering of airplanes. Where a regular passenger air service exists the racers may go by air. Otherwise they must content themselves with slower means of locomotion.

It is not a race against time or an effort to break the record held by two Americans. These men, Wells and Evans, engaged airplanes wherever possible, and made a record of 28 days and some few hours. The Japanese do not expect nearly to equal this speed. Such is not the aim of the race. The idea is to find out how long it would take an ordinary man unblest with the wealth of Midas to make his way around the globe by conveyances and routes established for public use.

Other things being about equal it may be assumed offhand that the winner will be the one luckiest in getting across the realm of the bolshhevists in the shortest time. Russian railways are not bidding for any tourist trade, and non-Russians are not invited to clutter up the trains. But such as they are the Russian trains offer the quickest transportation between Japan and Europe.

The Japanese racers are not spending their own money in the sport. They are spending what their backers have supplied, and spending it sparingly, for there is a special prize for the competitor who spends less than his rival. And a chief prize of $2,000 for the winner of the race.

It is about the most sensible globe encircling we have ever observed.

MAN BEATING NATURE

Nature does her utmost, but little by little man goes on beating her. Heavy fogs have been the bane of air and sea navigation. Now comes the invention of a light so powerful that it can be seen 50 miles through a haze. It will be of immense value in outlining landing fields, and it will guide ships.

It is doubtful if Nature ever wins the final victory in what we call death. Rather does it merely bring on a change to which the soul of man somehow makes adjustment.

MAN AND BEAST

Man, a machine, is also an animal. He is a puny animal compared with the horse or the elephant. As an animal he is behind the other animals in many ways—in strength, in sureness of instinct, oftentimes in good sense. Other animals do not do violence to their instincts. Man at his worst does. But man has something that makes him totally different. He has aspiration. Where did he get that? This is important.

The Diary of a New Yorker

By CLARK KINNAIRD

NEW YORK, May 2. — Varied notes of a reporter covering the biggest beat in the world:

The biggest coffee cups I ever saw are in the Harvard club here. They hold a pint.

Thomas A. Edison ignores progress in automotive science and still drives his first car, of 1912 vintage. But he loves to speed in motor boats.

R. F. Foster, the famous bridge expert, thinks one-deck Russian boats is a better game. (See your Hoyle. It isn't a sinful game; I was taught to play it by a bishop).

In the nurses' school at St. Mark's hospital, the students are taught, among other things, voice control.

Dorothy Stickney, Broadway show girl, says she is a cousin of President Coolidge.

Countess Inga Nybo, of Romania, relative of Queen Marie, is in New York looking for a job.

The average first novel sells about 600 copies, a publisher tells me.

Jazz's victory isn't quite complete. The Metropolitan Opera company grossed more than $3,000,000 in the season just closed.

A chorus man who read in this column that in the profession chorus men are held in low esteem sends a protest. He points out that the men in Broadway show ensembles are generally of high class, most of them intent only upon learning the show business or stepping from the chorus into higher roles. He calls attention to Benjamin Cutler, Yale '26, star halfback of the Old Eli eleven, and prominent in two other sports, member of the highest college societies, and chosen by his class as its best all-around member. Cutler sings in the chorus of a musical comedy.

Other examples he offers are: Hazard Newberry, son of wealthy Frederick Newberry of Detroit, and cousin of former Senator Truman Newberry; John Pierce, a graduate of University of West Virginia medical school; Charles Maynard, star debater at Worcester college; George Lamb, Jr., also of Yale, who he attracted attention to art and dramatics. A former Episcopal minister is in the chorus of a show.

Sale of peanuts in Central Park dropped away to nothing after park commissioners, desiring to rid it of peanut hells, ruled that only shelled nuts might be sold in the park. Without the shells to scatter to the winds, park visitors found peanut eating rather dull and uninteresting. Then some enterprising peddlers began bootlegging the forbidden fruit. Bags that used to sell for a nickel now are distributed covertly at 10 and 15 cents. The bears and monkeys are again demonstrating their proficiency in the art of shelling peanuts.

WHEN STREETS ARE BUSIEST

Pedestrian traffic shows a steady rate of increase from the time it starts in the dim, early hours of the morning until exactly 12:30, at which time there are more people on the sidewalks than at any other minute of the whole day, except during the homebound rush between five and six o'clock in the evening. From 12:30 traffic falls until about 3:30, after which it has another steady rise—increased somewhat suddenly when theatre matinee crowds are poured out—until the home crowd is unleashed at the close of the day.

Although the crowd is greatest at 12:30 and smallest in the afternoon at 3:30, the percentage of people entering stores is much higher at 3:30 than at 12:30. To be exact, the percentage of shoppers is lowest at 12 o'clock and highest at three. The reason for this variable percentage of shoppers is not difficult to find. At noon, when traffic is greatest, the majority of people on the street are there because it is the lunch hour. Any shopping they do is incidental to going out for a bite to eat. But at three o'clock in the afternoon the main thing that brings people to the streets is the desire to look about the stores. A great many of those who were abroad at the noon hour are now toiling—tolling in order that their wives and others may go forth and spend the fruits of their labor. Naturally, inasmuch as shopping is the reason for the greatest part of traffic at a certain hour, the ratio of shoppers to the total traffic then is exceptionally high.

Between eight and nine in the morning and from five to six in the evening is a high peak of traffic on downtown cross-streets, leading to main thoroughfares. If you were to count on the ordinary percentage of shoppers for this traffic for those hours, you would go wrong, for the number of shoppers is astonishingly low. The traffic on these cross-streets at the hours mentioned consists largely of persons going to and from the street-car lines on the main thoroughfares. A person leaving his office for home at night, or going to it in the morning, is usually in more or less of a rush, and, therefore, not in a good mood to stop and make purchases in stores he passes.

THE STRENGTH OF YOUR EYES

Most of us have an inferior eye.

Choose some object to center your attention on and test your own eyes by covering first one and then the other and having discovered which of the two is weaker, set things right by systematizing a routine of training which will normalize your eyesight. Develop the weak eye by making it do its share. Stop doing things that are injurious to yourself, such as reading in a dim light or a very vivid, glaring one. Never permit a brilliant light to be directed on your eyes. Arrange your work so that the light falls over your shoulder. An indirect light is most advisable, a light whose direct rays have been neutralized by a reflector or shade.

A spine is often to blame for eye troubles, via the multitudinous nerves that travel from that main vertebrae. Many children recover from the measles with afflictions of their eye sight. Eye strain causes headaches and over strained muscles are frequently at the base of the eye strain.

An excellent exercise to correct this is to look to a distance, or imagine that you can, if circumstances prevent the actual effort. When you look at a small object your muscles and nerves are training, when you look far away you can almost feel yourself relax.

THE DANGER OF INFECTION FROM TUBERCULOSIS

"This is my problem and one that is causing me many sleepless nights.

"My sister, 25 years of age, and a sufferer of tuberculosis for the past four years, is now making her home with me. My apartment is very small and gets very little sun. She seems fairly well, and unless she has a cold, does not expectorate very much. My real worry is that my son, 12 years of age, is liable to contract this disease, for he is thrown into constant contact with my sister. She is not very careful in that she will not use her own dishes and drinks from any glass or cup that she wishes—in a general way doing just as one who is in perfect health. She should be well aware of the danger, but represents anything I say. I am terribly worried, but am helpless, as I have not sufficient income to have a larger home or to keep my sister elsewhere. She is dependent upon me.

"From what I know of the disease, my son is at a very dangerous age to be exposed like that. I work for my living and am not in the position to send him to boarding school, and I am frantic for he is little and helpless and depending upon me for his care and wellbeing.

"He seems well at present, although he doesn't eat the things he should; does not like milk unless mixed with chocolate, cannot get him to taste carrots, spinach, cauliflower—in fact, he eats very few vegetables, except potatoes and beans. He likes macaroni and starchy foods and sweets, and eats very little meat. Would a thorough physical examination by a doctor show whether there is any contamination so far? Please advise me.

"A Frantic Mother."

Webb and Ryder, in their book, "Recovery Record," written for the use of the layman, state that the healthy adult incurs less risk in living with a tuberculous patient than riding downtown in an automobile, if the rules regarding coughing, expectoration and cleanliness are scrupulously followed. They go on to state, "This, however, does NOT apply to children. A child, especially a baby, is in deadly danger when an individual with open tuberculosis feeds or kisses him, or even holds or talks to him in his face."

Your sister evidently does not realize the danger of her infecting your little boy, but she must be made to realize it. Mrs. M. I would have a frank talk with her and tell her that unless she does use her own dishes and is scrupulously careful of her expectoration, destroying them and washing her hands immediately afterwards, and follows out carefully all of the other hygienic rules in that disease, you will have her put into a county institution. It is a question of hurting your sister's feelings or risking your child's life, and of course, there is no doubt as to which choice you must make.

Yes, a thorough examination by a competent physician would show whether there were any infection already in the boy. This finicky appetite he has in not at all preventive against tuberculosis is correct nutrition, so you must devise means to make him eat more vegetables and fruit and to have at least a quart of milk daily. Finnan haddie with potatoes is a dish that might be served even for breakfast if one wants a hearty meal then. Wouldn't it taste good if one went for a long hike or fishing or something before breakfast? It is especially good as a luncheon or supper dish.

Finnan Haddie with Potatoes
Pea and Carrot Salad
Bruned Sugar Cake

TODAY'S RECIPES

Haddie With Potatoes — Six potatoes, two cups cooked finnan haddie, two tablespoons butter, one teaspoon salt, milk. Bake potatoes, and when done cut a slice from the top of each and remove inside. Put through ricer, add the finnan haddie, butter, salt and enough milk to make consistency of mashed potatoes. Beat until light and refill potato shells with the mixture. Put a bit of butter on top of each. Sprinkle with paprika and heat thoroughly in oven.

Pea and Carrot Salad — If peas and carrots are left over from a previous meal, wash free from white sauce, if any, arrange on lettuce or chopped cabbage, and serve with mayonnaise.

Burned Sugar Cake—Take one-half cup butter, creamed thoroughly, one and one-half cup sugar added gradually, two egg yolks beaten, one cup cold water alternately with two cups flour. Beat five minutes. Take one teaspoon vanilla, three teaspoons burned sugar syrup, one-half cup flour with one-third teaspoon salt, add two teaspoons baking powder lastly and two eggs whites beaten stiff. Fold in carefully. Bake in two large or three small layers.

Burned Sugar Syrup — Put one-half cup sugar in skillet over slow fire. Stir constantly. Let the sugar melt, then brown until it throws off an intense smoke. Add carefully (for it splatters) one-half cup boiling water. Let it boil thoroughly. Bottle when you do not use, for it keeps indefinitely.

Icing — One egg white unbeaten, seven-eighths cup sugar, three tablespoons cold water. Put in top of double boiler over boiling water and beat for seven minutes. Add one teaspoon vanilla, one teaspoon burned sugar syrup.

He came to Sheboygan from Toronto, Canada, in 1864.

It or any other flavoring he likes, if necessary. I would advise you to give him liver three or four times a week. Let him be out of doors as much as he possibly can.

You should have a book on the diet and care of children. Mrs. M. We have such a list which may have by sending two cents in coin and, a self-addressed stamped envelope. We also have a list of books on Tuberculosis which you may have for two cents more.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, April 31. — Full of admiration as they are, for the Huenefeld-Koehl-Fitzmaurice ocean flyers' skill and courage, naval aviators nevertheless aren't converted.

They still think the Newfoundland route a near-suicidal way for an aviator to attempt a transatlantic crossing, especially to the westward.

For a flyer who wants to try his hand at a miracle, they don't find any fault with it.

If he wants to get from America to Europe, or more particularly from Europe to America, they stand pat for the Azores as the only practicable jumping-place this side of the equator.

At all events, that's the verdict of all the sea flyers I happen to know personally.

Their theory of inter-continental aerial operations always has seemed to me essentially different from that of aviators whose training has been confined mainly to operations above terra firma.

Hydrographic office experts, in particular, contend that overseas flights generally appear to have been conducted on the mistaken supposition that a plane's in the same class with a powerfully-engined surface steamship, capable of being driven through the waves with little regard for wind direction.

Their view is that a flyer's necessities are more like those of the oldtime mariner who, dependent on a breeze to fill his sails, made a point of steering so as to keep it blowing behind him — suiting his course to weather conditions rather than trying to defy them.

The hydrographers' comparison of the voyage either way between New York and Ireland, via Newfoundland, with the Newport News-Lisbon journey, via Fayal, isn't flattering to the former.

On the southern route flying conditions almost always are ideal; on the northern almost always shocking. The experts admit the necessity for two hops between Newport News and Lisbon, but think the Bremen hops are equally necessary between Ireland and New York, and probably much safer in the opposite direction.

As for an intermediate stopping place—

On the one hand is Fayal, with a climate which need never delay a plane beyond the time required to refuel.

As against it, the best the north has to offer is some such bleak spot as Greenland Island, where storms may delay a flying party for days at any season, even after every facility has been provided to minimize the dangers of a landing or a take-off.

The north's one advantage, to surface steam shipping, is in the matter of distance.

Navigators see no advantage whatever in this to any vessel surface or aerial, which cannot disregard the inevitable buffetings of the higher latitudes.

WINNING LOVE

Has any one a loved and true recipe for winning the love of a young man or a maid? If so I wish she would pass it on to me, as I badly need it. That is the question I am asked more than any other.

Dear Mrs. Lee: I am a girl of 20, and am in love with a fellow 25. He doesn't know I love him. I have loved him for over two years, and I have kept it as a secret in my heart. When he tells me of all the dates he has with other girls it makes me feel blue. But he doesn't know how much I love him. I would really like to win his love. Please tell me how to do it.

"Marchita."

You deserve to be told how to win him for signing such a pretty name as Marchita. The number of "Blue Eyes," "Brown Eyes," and "Broken Hearts" signed to letters gets a bit monotonous. Did you ever notice how many letters are thus signed? Now about the young man. You have a good start, now, I should say, as he confides in you. Be always the sympathetic friend and you may win him yet. Of course this is not a sure enough method, but it's the best I know.

"Dear Mrs. Lee: I am a constant reader of Living and Lovine, and have come to you with my troubles as many others have done. I love a boy, but have never had a chance to go with him. We are both in high school. He never goes with other girls, but I go with other boys. He hardly ever pays and attention to me. Would you advise me whether to flirt with him or not? I am a good flirt when I have a chance. Can't you tell me of some way of winning him over?

"Discouraged."

Well, Discouraged, flirting might do the trick or it might not, according to the boy. If he does seem to me, as you are of school together, you could find a way to speak to him in a friendly manner that would give him to understand you wish to be friends without making it too obvious embarrassing him and making yourself ridiculous.

HOME BY THE AIR ROUTE

Peter sighed. Humming-bird heard him and looked at him anxiously.

"What is the matter? I hope you are not hungry," said he, an afraid I shouldn't have dined right before your eyes. Do you suppose I could sip a bit of nectar and give it to you—that is, if you wouldn't mind taking a drink from my beak?"

"Oh, no, thank you. That is very kind of you, but I couldn't think of it." Peter spoke quickly. "I am not a bit hungry. I was just wishing that I could see your home, but I suppose, since you fly so far and so fast, it is too far away for me to get to. Anyhow, you probably don't care about inviting me."

"Nonsense!" Humming-bird chuckled. "Of course, I do. Wife will be delighted to see you. She doesn't have much company while she is brooding. We are a bit afraid of the other birds now."

"Our eggs are so tiny we fear some hungry bird might fancy them for breakfast."

"But I trust you, Two-Legs, as for my nest being far away, it isn't. Do you see that maple tree right behind you? Well, I live on the lowest branch."

The boy whirled and found himself so close to the maple tree that he could touch it had he stretched out his arm.

"See you later, boy. Bet I'll reach home before you do, even if I do take the air route and the trunk!" cried Humming-bird. The flier roared into the air and for a moment was lost to sight. Then, as if dropping out of nowhere, a small shape fell swiftly upon the lowest branch of the maple tree. It was Humming-bird. The jolly fellow called:

"I beat you—know I would! Come on, climb up here. But be sure you watch them you are going. If you don't search carefully for our house you might pass it by."

Peter lost no time in accepting the invitation. Clambering up the maple's trunk he swung himself upon the lowest limb where Humming-bird met him.

"Hello, Two-Legs! This was to the croch. Here we are Mrs. Humming-bird, here's our young boy friend!"

"How do you do, friend boy?" The voice was low and gentle and belonged to a pretty little lady bird who gazed at him with bright black eyes. "Husband says you have come to see our house."

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

A GREAT PLEDGE—Bind them (the commandments) continually upon thine heart, and tie them about thy neck. When thou goest, it shall lead thee; when thou sleepest, it shall keep thee; and when thou awakest, it shall talk with thee.—Prov. 6:21, 22.

TRAINING SCHOOL FOR WORLD LEADERS

The work of the friendly salesman or saleslady who serves by helping the customers of mercantile establishments in selecting the things they will like is perhaps one of the most agreeable occupations as well as a most valuable one because the training it provides.

Probably the most useful knowledge that comes to retail salespeople is that profound understanding of human nature which enables them to anticipate the wishes, the questions, and often the objections of customers. To know human nature is to understand how people in general think and act; and in all the realms of learning there is no subject more valuable or useful to the business man. Where can the average individual acquire a better grasp of the problems of dealing with the public than on the firing line of retail selling?

"Experience in selling across the counter," declares one observer of business trends and occupations, "is training for the battle of life." Certainly there is much truth in his remark, for the ability to deal successfully with human beings is a trait of tremendously practical value to a worker in almost any field of endeavor. Whether a retail salesman continues in merchandising work, and eventually becomes manager or proprietor of a retail store, or whether he shifts to some other career, the knowledge and experience gained behind the counter will prove to be a real aid to ultimate success and achievement. Innumerable men who later became world leaders gained their first knowledge of human nature as clerks in stores, among them Abraham Lincoln and John D. Rockefeller, while in the merchandising field proper, stand the names of Marshall Field and John Wanamaker.

RACING AROUND WORLD

Two Japanese newspaper reporters are racing around the world, one westward, the other eastward. They are to go as fast as they can, with only one qualification. They must nowhere engage any special or private means of travel. There can be no chartering of airplanes. Where a regular passenger air service exists the racers may go by air. Otherwise they must content themselves with slower means of locomotion.

It is not a race against time or an effort to break the record held by two Americans. These men, Wells and Evans, engaged airplanes wherever possible, and made a record of 23 days and some few hours. The Japanese do not expect nearly to equal this speed. Such is not the aim of the race. The idea is to find out how long it would take an ordinary man unassisted by the wealth of Midas to make his way around the globe by conveyances and routes established for public use.

Other things being about equal it may be assumed offhand that the winner will be the one luckiest in getting across the realm of the bolsheviks in the shortest time. Russian railways are not bidding for any tourist trade, and non-Russians are not invited to clutter up the trains. But such as they are the Russian trains offer the quickest transportation between Japan and Europe.

The Japanese racers are not spending their own money in the sport. They are spending what their backers have supplied, and spending it sparingly, for there is a special prize for the competitor who spends less than his rival. And a chief prize of $2,000 for the winner of the race.

It is about the most sensible globe encircling we have ever observed.

MAN BEATING NATURE

Nature does her utmost, but little by little man goes on beating her. Heavy fogs have been the bane of air and sea navigation. Now comes the invention of a light so powerful that it can be seen 50 miles through a haze. It will be of immense value in outlining landing fields, and it will guide ships.

It is doubtful if Nature even wins the final victory in what we call death. Rather does it merely bring on a change to which the soul of man somehow makes adjustment.

MAN AND BEAST

Man, a machine, is also an animal. He is a puny animal compared with the horse or the elephant. As an animal he is behind the other animals in many ways—in strength, in sureness of instinct, oftentimes in good sense. Other animals do not do violence to their instincts. Man at his worst does. But man has something that makes him totally different. He has aspiration. Where did he get that? This is important.

The Diary of a New Yorker

NEW YORK, May 2. — Variegated notes of a reporter covering the biggest beat in the world:

The biggest coffee cups I ever saw are in the Harvard club here. They hold a pint.

Thomas A. Edison ignores progress in automotive science and still drives his first car, of 1912 vintage. But he loves to speed in motor boats.

R. F. Foster, the famous bridge expert, thinks one-deck Russian bank is a better game. (See your Hoyle. It isn't a sinful game; I was taught to play it by a bishop.)

In the nurses' school at St. Mark's hospital, the students are taught, among other things, voice control.

Dorothy Stickney, Broadway show girl, says she is a cousin of President Coolidge.

Countess Inga Nybo, of Romania, relative of Queen Marie, is in New York looking for a job.

The average first novel sells about 600 copies, a publisher tells me.

Jazz's victory isn't quite complete. The Metropolitan Opera company grossed more than $3,000,000 in the season just closed.

A chorus man who read in this column that "in the profession chorus men are held in low esteem," sends a protest. He points out that the men in Broadway show ensembles are generally of high class, most of them intent only upon learning the show business or stepping from the chorus into higher roles. He calls attention to Benjamin Culler, Yale '26, star ballplayer of the O. E. B. eleven, and prominent in two other sports, member of the highest college societies, and chosen by his class as its best all-around member. Culler sings in the chorus of a musical comedy.

Other examples he offers are Hazard Newberry, son of wealthy Frederick Newberry of Detroit, and cousin of former Senator Truman Newberry; John Pierce, a graduate of University of West Virginia medical school; Charles Maynard, star debater at Wooster college; George Lamb, jr., also of Yale, where he attracted attention in art and dramatics. A former Episcopalian minister is in the chorus of a show.

Sale of peanuts in Central Park dropped away to nothing after park commissioners, desiring to rid it of peanut hulls, ruled that only shelled nuts might be sold in the park. Without the shells to scatter to the winds, park visitors found peanut eating rather dull and uninteresting. Then some enterprising peddlers began bootlegging the forbidden fruit. Bags that used to sell for a nickel now are distributed covertly at 10 and 15 cents. The bears and monkeys are again demonstrating their proficiency in the art of shelling peanuts.

WHEN STREETS ARE BUSIEST

Pedestrian traffic shows a steady rate of increase from the time it starts in the dim, early hours of the morning until, exactly 12:30, at which time there are more people on the sidewalks than at any other minute of the whole day, except during the homeward rush between five and six o'clock in the evening. From 12:30 traffic falls until about 2:30, after which it has another steady rise—increased, somewhat suddenly when theatre matinee crowds are poured out—until the homing crowd is unleashed at the close of the day.

Although the crowd is greatest at 12:30 and smallest in the afternoon at 3:30, the percentage of people entering stores is much higher at 3:30 than at 12:30. To be exact, the percentage of shoppers is lowest at 12 o'clock and highest at 3 o'clock. The reason for this variable percentage of shoppers is not difficult to find. At noon, when traffic is greatest, the majority of people on the street are there because it is the lunch hour. Any shopping they do is incidental to going out for a bite to eat. But at three o'clock in the afternoon the main thing that brings people to the streets is the desire to look about the stores. A great many of those who come abroad at the noon hour are now toiling—toiling in order that their wives and others may go forth and spend the fruits of their labor. Naturally, inasmuch as shopping is a reason for the greatest part of traffic at a certain hour, the ratio of shoppers to the total traffic then is exceptionally high.

Between eight and nine in the morning and from five to six in the evening is a high peak of traffic on downtown cross-streets, leading to main thoroughfares. If you were to count on the ordinary percentage of shoppers from this traffic for those hours, you would go wrong, for the number of shoppers is astonishingly low. The traffic on these cross-streets at the hours mentioned consists largely of persons going to and from the street-car lines on the main thoroughfares. A person leaving his office for home at night, or going to it in the morning, is usually in more or less of a rush, and, therefore, not in a good mood to stop and make purchases in stores he passes.

THE STRENGTH OF YOUR EYES

Most of us have an inferior eye.

Choose some object to center your attention on and test your own eyes by covering first one and then the other and having discovered which of the two is weaker, set things right by systematizing a routine of training which will normalize your eyes. Develop the weak eye by making it do its share. Stop doing things that are injurious to yourself, such thing as reading in a dim light or a very vivid, glaring one. Never permit a brilliant light to be directed on your eyes. Arrange your work so that the light falls over your shoulder. An indirect light is most advisable, a light whose direct rays have been neutralized by a reflector or shade.

A spine is often to blame for eye troubles via the multitudinous nerves that travel from that main vertebrae.

Many children recover from the measles with afflictions of the eye sight. Eye strain causes headaches and over strained muscles are frequently at the base of the eye strain.

An excellent exercise to correct this is to look to a distance, or imagine that you can, if circumstances prevent the actual effort. When you look at a small object your muscles and nerves are straining, when you look far away you can almost feel yourself relax.

THE DANGER OF INFECTION FROM TUBERCULOSIS

"This is my problem and one that is causing me many sleepless nights.

"My sister, 25 years of age, and a sufferer of tuberculosis for the past four years, is now making plans to marry. My apartment is very small and gets very little sun. She seems fairly well, and unless she has a cold, does not expectorate very much. My real worry is that my son, 12 years of age, is liable to contract this disease, for he is thrown into constant contact with my sister. She is not very careful in that she will not use her own dishes and drinks from any glass or cup that she wishes. In a general way doing just as one who is in perfect health. She should be well aware of the danger, but represents anything I say, I am terribly worried, but am helpless, as I have not sufficient income to have a larger home or to keep my sister elsewhere. She is dependent upon me.

"From what I know of the disease, my son is at a very dangerous age to be exposed like that. I work for my living and am not in the position to send him to boarding school, and I am frantic for he is little and helpless and depending upon me for his care and wellbeing.

"He seems well at present, although he doesn't eat the things he should; does not like milk unless mixed with chocolate, cannot get him to taste carrots, spinach, cauliflower—in fact, he eats very few vegetables except potatoes and beans. He likes macaroni and starchy foods and sweets, and eats very little meat. Would a thorough physical examination by a doctor show whether there is any contamination so far? Please advise me.

"A Frantic Mother."

Webb and Ryder, in their book, "Recovery Record," written for the use of the layman, state that the healthy adult incurs less risk in living with a tuberculosis patient than riding downtown in an automobile, if the rules regarding coughing, expectoration and cleanliness are scrupulously followed. They go on to state, "This, however, does not apply to children. A child, especially a baby, is in deadly danger when ever an individual with open tuberculosis feeds or kisses him, or even holds or talks to him to his face."

Your sister evidently does not realize the danger of her infecting your little boy, but she must be made to realize it. Mrs. M. I would have a frank talk with her and tell her that unless she does use her own dishes and is scrupulously careful of her expectoration, destroying them and washing her hands immediately afterwards, and follows out carefully all of the other hygienic rules in that disease, you will have her put into a county institution. It is a question of hurting your sister's feelings or risking your child's life, and of course, there is no doubt as to which choice you must make.

Yes, a thorough examination by a competent physician would show whether there were any infection already in the boy. This finicky appetite he has in not altogether a good sign. One of the best preventives against tuberculosis is correct nutrition, so you must devise means to make him eat more vegetables and fruit and to have at least a quart of milk daily. Finnan haddie with potatoes is a dish that might be served even for breakfast if one wants a hearty meal then. Wouldn't it taste good if one went for a long hike or fish from the top of each and remove inside. Put through ricer, add the finnan haddie, butter, salt and enough milk to make consistency of mashed potatoes. Beat until light and refill potato shells with the mixture. Put a bit of butter on top of each. Sprinkle with paprika and heat thoroughly in oven.

Pea and Carrot Salad — If peas and carrots are left over from a previous meal, wash free from white sauce, if any, arrange on lettuce or chopped cabbage, and serve with mayonnaise.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Haddie With Potatoes — Six potatoes, two cups cooked finnan haddie, two tablespoons butter, one teaspoon salt, milk. Bake peas and when done cut a slice from the top of each and remove inside. Put through ricer, add the finnan haddie, butter, salt and enough milk to make consistency of mashed potatoes. Beat until light and refill potato shells with the mixture. Put a bit of butter on top of each. Sprinkle with paprika and heat thoroughly in oven.

Pea and Carrot Salad — If peas and carrots are left over from a previous meal, wash free from white sauce, if any, arrange on lettuce or chopped cabbage, and serve with mayonnaise.

Burned-Sugar Cake—Take one-half cup butter, creamed thoroughly, one and one-half cup sugar added gradually, two egg yolks beaten, one cup cold water alternately with two cups flour. Beat five minutes. Take one teaspoon vanilla, three teaspoons burned sugar syrup, one-half cup flour with one-third teaspoon salt, add two teaspoons baking powder lastly, add two egg whites beaten stiff. Fold in carefully. Bake in two large or three small layers.

Burned Sugar Syrup — Put one-half cup sugar in skillet over slow fire. Stir constantly. Let the sugar melt, then brown until it throws off an intense smoke. Add carefully (for it splatters) one-half cup boiling water. Let it boil thoroughly. Bottle what you do not use, for it keeps indefinitely.

Icing — One egg white unbeaten, seven-eighths cup sugar, three tablespoons cold water. Put in top of double boiler over boiling water and beat for seven minutes. Add one teaspoon vanilla, one teaspoon burned sugar syrup.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, April 31. — Full of admiration as they are, for the Huenefeld-Koehl-Fitzmaurice ocean flyers' skill and courage, naval aviators nevertheless aren't converted.

They still think the Newfoundland route a near-suicidal way for an aviator to attempt a transatlantic crossing, especially to the westward.

For a flyer who wants to try his hand at a miracle, they don't find any fault with it.

If he wants to get from America to Europe, or more particularly from Europe to America, they stand pat for the Azores as the only practicable jumping-place this side of the equator.

At all events, that's the verdict of all the sea flyers I happen to know personally.

Their theory of inter-continental aerial operations always has seemed to me essentially different from that of aviators whose training has been confined mainly to operations above terra firma.

Hydrographic office experts, in particular, contend that overseas flights generally appear to have been conducted on the mistaken supposition that a plane's in the same class with a powerfully-engined surface steamship, capable of being driven through the waves with little regard for wind direction.

Their view is that a flyer's necessities are more like those of the oldtime mariner who, dependent on a breeze to fill his sails, made a point of steering so as to keep it blowing behind him. I know of no aviator who considers it possible to weather conditions rather than trying to defy them.

The hydrographers' comparison of the voyage either way between New York and Ireland, via Newfoundland, with the Newport News-Lisbon journey, via Fayal, isn't flattering to the former.

On the southern route flying conditions almost always are ideal; on the northern almost always shocking. The experts admit the necessity for two hops between Newport News and Lisbon, but think the Bremen has proved that two west-bound hops are equally necessary between Ireland and New York, and probably much safer in the opposite direction.

As for an intermediate stopping place— On the one hand is Fayal, with a climate which need never delay a plane beyond the time required to refuel.

As against it, the best the north has to offer is some such bleak spot as Greenly Island, where storms may delay a flying party for days at any season, even after every facility has been provided to minimize the dangers of a landing or a take-off.

The north's one advantage, to surface steam shipping, is in the matter of distance.

Navigators see no advantage whatever in this to any vessel surface or aerial, which cannot disregard the inevitable buffeting of the higher latitudes.

There are competent naval judges who believe systematic transatlantic flying is humanly and mechanically—not commercially—feasible today by way of the Azores. I know of no aviator who considers it possible to weather conditions rather than trying to defy them.

FIGHT COMMISSION TO PROBE SHARKEY- DELANEY KNOCKOUT

Call Inquiry Into Circumstances Of Recent Bout

By DAVIS J. WALSH
I. N. S. Sports Editor
NEW YORK, May 2.—The proposed investigation by the New York Boxing Commission into the circumstances surrounding the Sharkey-Delaney knockout was proceeding today through a labyrinth of innuendoes, suggestive circumstances and allegations. These were of the type similar to those in circulation before, after and during the course of many fights, only this time they were deemed of sufficient plausibility to prompt Chairman James A. Farley to order an inquiry.

Farley, however, did not take this action until the stories were consolidated into a chain of circumstantial evidence and presented by a local newspaper for his consideration in the form of a hypothetical case. The presentation apparently found the official in a receptive mood, for it came as the climax of a week of rumors, sufficiently plausible, in his estimation, to cause him to order a sharply worded warning to the fighters by the referee before the bout.

These stories likewise were alleged to have impressed Tex Rickard to the extent that his matchmaker, Jess McMahon, was supposed to have visited Delaney's camp in order to judge the young man's condition. It seemed, however, that it was an off day in the Delaney camp, so McMahon is said to have returned without specific information. The stories further were said to have caused a hurried conference between Rickard, Jim, my Johnston and Johnny Buckley, managers of Sharkey, an hour before the fight. The conference, it was said, threw no light on the situation.

If Farley's proposed investigation takes the usual form, those identified with the bout will be hailed before the commission at its next meeting on Friday. The chairman, however, had nothing to add today to his original statements, contenting himself with saying that many rumors about the fight had reached his ears during the past week or more and that he considered that these were worth looking into.

Of the newspapermen congregated at the ringside, the vast majority saw only a remarkable come back on the part of Sharkey in the seventy-three second knockout of Delaney. Most of them said that Sharkey looked great. The writer failed to see Sharkey in that light, it being his idea that the Boston entry looked good only because Delaney obviously was bad.

QUOIT CLUB HOPES TO ORGANIZE HERE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

After several postponements, the Xenia Quoit Club hopes to hold its 1928 organization meeting at the local quoit grounds on E. Market St., Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

All members of the club are urged to turn out, not only to effect organization, but to obtain much needed practice for the ensuing season in the Miami Valley Quoit League, inasmuch as the schedule opens next Monday night.

Xenia is scheduled to play Springfield on the Springfield courts in the opening match Monday night at 8 o'clock.

Springfield resumed its connection with the league this season after a lapse of several years. The league is being conducted on a different basis this year and each team will consist of only six players instead of twelve as in previous years. Practice sessions this week will determine the final selection of the half dozen local pitchers who will be taken on the trip to Springfield.

AKRON, O., May 2.—Wade T. Vanorman and W. T. Morton will defend their national balloon racing championship in Pittsburgh May 30. The Goodyear company announced today that the two veteran balloonists will pilot its entry in the national race. Vanorman won the international race in 1926.

SYNTHETIC SILK PLANT STARTED

NEW YORK, May 2.—With authorized capital of $10,000,000 which has been four times over-subscribed, the American Chitlon Corporation announced today that as soon as its organization had been effected, it would build a plant at Rome, Georgia for the manufacture of rayon silk by the viscose and acetate of cellulose processes.

The plant in Rome, Ga., will employ, within a year, about 2200 people, and when the full program has been developed will employ more than 4,000 people. The program for the first two years calls for the production of 12,000 pounds daily of rayon silk by the viscose process and 6,000 pounds daily of rayon by the acetate of cellulose process. This production will be doubled about 1930.

FIGHT COMMISSION TO PROBE SHARKEY- DELANEY KNOCKOUT

Call Inquiry Into Circumstances Of Recent Bout

By DAVIS J. WALSH
I. N. S. Sports Editor
NEW YORK, May 2.—The proposed investigation by the New York Boxing Commission into the circumstances surrounding the Sharkey-Delaney knockout was proceeding today through a labyrinth of innuendoes, suggestive circumstances and allegations. These were of the type similar to those in circulation before, after and during the course of many fights, only this time they were deemed of sufficient plausibility to prompt Chairman James A. Farley to order an inquiry.

Farley, however, did not take this action until the stories were consolidated into a chain of circumstantial evidence and presented by a local newspaper for his consideration in the form of a hypothetical case. The presentation apparently found the official in a receptive mood, for it came as the climax of a week of rumors, sufficiently plausible, in his estimation, to cause him to order a sharply worded warning to the fighters by the referee before the bout.

These stories likewise were alleged to have impressed Tex Rickard, the promoter, with the fact that it was an off day in the Delaney camp, so McMahon is said to have returned without specific information. The stories further were said to have caused a hurried conference between Rickard, Jim, my Johnston and Johnny Buckley, managers of Sharkey, an hour before the fight. The conference, it was said, threw no light on the situation.

If Farley's proposed investigation takes the usual form, those identified with the bout will be held before the commission at its next meeting on Friday. The chairman, however, had nothing to add today to his original statements, contenting himself with saying that many rumors about the fight had reached his ears during the past week or more and that he considered that these were worth looking into.

Of the newspapermen congregated at the residence, the vast majority saw only a remarkable come back on the part of Sharkey in the seventy-third second knockout of Delaney. Most of them said that Sharkey looked great. The writer failed to see Sharkey in that light, it being his idea that the Boston entry looked good only because Delaney obviously was bad.

In 1927 he became a sensation. Bating at a .373 clip he hit forty-seven homers and for a great part of the season acted as pace maker for the home run king, Babe Ruth.

DEFEND TITLES

AKRON, O., May 2.—Wade T. Vanorman and W. T. Morton will defend their national pillow racing championship in Pittsburgh May 30. The Goodyear company announced today that the two veteran balloonists will pilot their entry in the national race Vanorman won the international race in 1926.

SYNTHETIC SILK PLANT STARTED

NEW YORK, May 2.—With authorized capital of $10,000,000 which has been four times oversubscribed, the American Chalk Corporation announced today that as soon as its organization had been effected, it would build a plant at Rome, Georgia, for the manufacture of rayon silk by the viscose and acetate of cellulose processes.

The plant in Rome, Ga., will employ, within a year, about 2200 people, and when the full program has been developed will employ more than 4,000 people. The program for the first two years calls for the production of 12,000 pounds daily of rayon silk by the viscose process and 6,000 pounds daily of rayon by the acetate of cellulose process. This production will be doubled about 1930.

HEALTH HINTS

For Parents

The wise mother gives little heed to "diets" for her growing boy or girl, and worries not at all about their bowels. A little fig syrup gives all the help, and has none of the harm that's found in habit-forming laxatives.

Have you a boy or girl whose food doesn't seem to nourish as it should? Let them eat the same things, and just treat them to a daily spoonful of this rich, fruity syrup; watch them gain weight, see how their cheeks fill out and how appetite and assimilation improve! And a few drops will do remarkable things for an ailing infant. California Fig Syrup is a purely vegetable product, so parents need have no hesitation in giving it to infants.

California Fig Syrup is not expensive; all dealers charge but sixty cents for a generous bottle. Just make certain that it is the California product; say "California" in asking for it.

Try California Fig Syrup two weeks on any child and let his altered appearance and actions tell the full story!

Bubble Will Burst

"The Home of Thrift"

The great wave of speculation is now probably near its end. The experienced operator is standing aside waiting for the crash when the breakers just ahead are reached and when the small fish, as usual, will be stranded, high and dry.

There are legitimate advances of stocks, of course, but, despite the rules of the Stock Exchanges to the contrary, by far the greater number of fluctuations are the direct result of the carefully planned manipulation of pools and syndicates. By artificial or fictitious transactions they produce the bait that lures the innocents.

The average speculator has not even a fair "gambling chance." We hear of the fellow who now and then slips through the trap, but the vast majority who have been fleeced are silent.

Don't draw your savings from the Building Association where they are safe, and squander them by attempting to beard the lion in his den.

Lynda Fenton, a singularly innocent girl, is private secretary to Ralph Armitage. Her father, a drunkard, tells her that her mother deserted them, and that all women have their price.Lynda meets Emily Andrews, who cherishes a secret fondness for David Kenmore, Lynda's companion from childhood. Emily plots against Lynda from the very beginning. David tells Lynda he loves her, but she decides she doesn't want to be in love with any man.
David is away on a trip.Lynda's father, too, deserts her,
and Claire Stanhope comes to live with her. Claire tells of innocent love for Fred Blake, a married man. Lynda comes home one day to find Fred in the house, and hears Claire entreating him to stay away.June Challer, who has annexed money, invites Lynda and Claire and Emily Andrews to a big party.
It's Lynda's first real affair, and she's enthused. Emily secretly sends David a letter, suggesting that he come home for the party, so that Lynda may be made to feel at ease. Then she sends him an anonymous note, saying "Ralph Armitage is rushing your girl!"Ralph meets with an accident, and sends for Lynda and Claire to come to him. Claire has had an innocent love affair with Fred Blake, a friend of Ralph's, and a married man, and when Claire says she is fearful of a scandal when
Mrs. Blake petitions for the divorce, Ralph says he'll fix it for her.Next day he shows up at the office.Pamilla Sheston phones and questions Lynda, just as Ralph comes in. He orders Lynda to hang up.

CHAPTER XXXVI
RALPH FINDS SOMETHING NEW"Go out to the telephone desk and ask Wilson to come here," Ralph Armitage told Lynda. "I want him to move over in reach of the phone. Pamilla will be calling up again in a minute, and I will answer her myself."Lynda went out and brought Wilson back, and Ralph's great leather chair was pushed nearer to the phone, which had begun to ring again.Lynda, at her employer's request, took down the receiver and held it to his right ear, as Wilson left the room."Yes, Pam, this is Ralph talking.
What do you want?""Lyn was near enough to hear her strident voice at the other end of the wire, Pamilla was saying:"Why didn't you send me word to come and see you? I had always thought, in fact you told me, that no woman was allowed in your home unless she was especially invited by your father, so, of course, I stayed away. But Hal told me yesterday that he met a young woman there, and you had evidently invited her to luncheon."Ralph answered:
"It was my secretary. I had to answer some important mail. I told Hal that I did not want to see anyone. I don't want to be bothered by any kind of spurious sympathy, and certainly, Pam, you must realize that a dislocated shoulder and three broken ribs are not conducive to ardent love making, or even feeling like making it.""But Ralph, you can't have been hurt so very badly, as you are down to the office. I'll come over and see you there.""Can't you understand, Pam, that a man has to get to his business as soon as possible, even if he must forego the pleasure of social calls from his feminine friends. I cannot see you this morning. In fact, I cannot see you when I will be able to see you. As soon as possible I will write you, but don't expect a letter very soon, for my right arm is strapped down at my side."Lynda's mouth quirked up a little at the corners, for she remembered in the note he had sent her the night before he had said that he had learned at college that he feeling like making it."However, Pamilla Sheston returned in answer to this was not audible to Lynda, but it evidently made Ralph angry, for with an ugly exclamation, he said:

CHAPTER XXXVI RALPH FINDS SOMETHING NEW

"Go out to the telephone desk and ask Wilson to come here," Ralph Armitage told Lynda, "I want him to move me over in reach of the phone. Pamilla will be calling up again in a minute, and I will answer her myself."

Lynda went out and brought Wilson back, and Ralph's great leather chair was pushed nearer to the phone, which had begun to ring again.

Lynda's mouth quivered a little at the corners, for she remembered in the note he had sent her the night before he had said that he had learned at college to write, after a fashion, with his left hand.

Whatever Pamilla Sheston returned in answer to this was not audible to Lynda, but with an ugly exclamation, he said: "I don't care what you do. Amuse yourself any way you please, even to putting on a petting at on Fifth Avenue at four o'clock in the afternoon."

With this he hung up, and turned to the girl beside him.

"I expect you are very tired holding that receiver to my ear for so long."

Lynda was not as tired as she was embarrassed to have heard the conversation, but she knew of no way of getting out of it. She was greatly relieved, however, when she saw Ralph's face brighten, and his lips smile as he turned his head toward her.

"I wonder," he said, as if to himself, "what that woman would think if she knew that all the time she was talking to me, you were holding the receiver to my ear, and that I could feel the warmth of your hand where you held my head against it?"

"Well, that's that," he continued, and apparently dismissed Miss Pamilla Sheston and her affairs.

"Yes, Pam, this is Ralph talking. What do you want?"

from his mind, then and there.

"Come over on the left side and sit on the wide arm of this chair again, Lynda. Do you know why I made this torturing drive down here today?"

"No, Mr. Armitage."

"It was because I knew I could not wait until Wilson would drive here and bring you back to me."

The girl did not speak. Her cheeks became pinker. She had moved on the broad arm of the leather chair where she could look at him, and her purple eyes seemed wells of youthful expectancy.

He suddenly felt much ashamed that he had been talking to Pamilla Sheston in her presence. It was as if he had hurt her in some way.

"Lynda, Lynda, what have you done to me?" he asked. "Why am I restless and unhappy when I cannot look at you, cannot hear your voice? Do you know that you have changed my whole outlook on life since I saw your black satin head bent over the typing machine out there in the office?"

TWO ASK DIVORCES HERE; PROPERTY SALE IS DEMANDED

Alleging that her husband frequently struck her in August, 1927, at a time when she was in a weak condition, having recently recovered from a spell of typhoid fever, Helen Sanford has instituted proceedings in divorce from Lester Sanford in Common Pleas Court.

Supporting a charge of extreme cruelty, plaintiff sets forth that the defendant from time to time caused her to run the home of the plaintiff in fear of further violent assaults from him.

They were married December 6, 1926. No children were born of the union. Plaintiff asks to be restored to her maiden name of Helen Stevens.

John Shoemaker, seeking divorce in a suit filed against Anna Shoemaker, charges the defendant continuously nagged him and with her unreasonable and unwarranted faultfindings, made married relations unbearable for him.

Plaintiff sets up charges of gross neglect of duty, and extreme cruelty.

It is charged in the petition, that the defendant from time to time caused her to run the home of the plaintiff in fear of further violent assaults from him.

Plaintiff points out that since the laws were made prohibiting the use of liquor, he has refrained from violating the laws.

JUDGMENT UNSATISFIED

Sale of property to satisfy a judgment for $501.12 obtained January 12, 1927, is sought in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court by J. A. Klepinger, R. R. No. 5, Dayton.

NEURITIS MADE HER MISERABLE
OVER HER BODY

LOCAL LADY SUFFERED IN TENSE PAINS BUT SAYS KON-
JOLA COMPLETELY RE-LIEVED HER

"I was a victim of neuritis and rheumatism for eight years and Konjola was the only medicine that completely relieved me, so I cannot but praise such a wonderful medicine," said Mrs. Helen Held, well-known Columbus lady, living at the rear of 67 Mithoff St.

during a recent conversation with the Konjola Man who is at the Gallaher drug store, Xenia, where large crowds are calling to find out for themselves about this celebrated new medical compound.

"I was miserable all over my body," said Mrs. Held, "for this neuritis and rheumatism settled in my limbs, arms and shoulders. Sometimes the pains were so bad that I thought I would not be able to stand them any longer. Very often they would be so bad that I would have to walk the floor. My knees were often so sore and stiff that I could not stand up. My legs and feet were swollen and pains would effect my entire limbs. For two years these ailments were so bad that I could not get out of the house. Due to rheumatism and neuritis troubles, other complications set in. My liver did not function properly and caused me intense headaches and dizzy spells. I became constipated and large quantities of poison gathered in my system that made me all the worse. These conditions made me drowsy and it seemed torture, for me to go day after day suffering so much.

"I heard about Konjola and the wonderful results other Xenia people were getting from this medicine. I started taking it as directed and showed signs of improvement the first week. Every time I took a dose of Konjola it seemed that I could feel it working through my entire system. At first I noticed the neuritis and rheumatic pains easing up and I wouldn't think of missing a dose. Now I don't have a single ache or pain any more and the muscles and joints of my body are free and limber. I can get around just as I did before those ailments came over me and it is hard for me to realize I ever suffered so much. For this reason alone I will always praise Konjola. But the benefits I derived from it did not end there, as my liver began to get better and better. The headaches and dizzy spells disappeared and I have never suffered from them since I completed a treatment of this medicine. Konjola regulated my bowels and drove all the poisons from my system. Now I am full of energy and vitality and I actually feel one hundred per cent better.

"I give Konjola credit for all the great relief I obtained and I gladly endorse this medicine."

Konjola contains the medicinal juices of twenty-two roots and herbs combined with other recognized ingredients. It works with the sufferer's own food, restoring more healthy, normal action to the inner-system.

The Konjola Man is at the Gallaher drug store, Xenia, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

THE SHIRT-OF-THE-MONTH
for May

A NEW Fruit-of-the-Loom original which proves at a glance that a shirt can be smartly styled and still be in the best of taste. Its trig figured pattern, its slim-pointed collar, its generous cut and general shapeliness make it an ideal garment for warm-weather wear. In correct shades of blue, tan and green.

America's Foremost $2.00 Shirt
